One connection, two solutions

Double connectors for two appliances – space-saving version with G1" connection

We are introducing new variants of double connectors P155Z-G1 and P156Z-G1, which fully replace the existing P148Z and P149Z models. Thanks to its more compact dimensions, it saves space, which you will appreciate especially in smaller apartments and during renovations. The new design with practical threaded connection ensures easier and safer connection.

The connector also includes a check valve that protects the second appliance from being washed out and a baffle that directs the flow of water inside the connector for reliable operation.
